AMC/AFSC/AFSB FUNCTIONS

The AMC/AFSC is the conduit to stove pipe support to the Field Commanders. The AFSC utilizes it's AFSB Commanders as the single Points Of Contact and/or is the "Single Belly Button" for the execution of the mission. The AFSB uses the Logistics Support Element (LSE) Commanders assigned at the installation level to assist the combatant commanders with all readiness and logistical issues.

AFSB-CE MISSION

To provide a single AMC face to supported organizations by integrating and synchronizing Acquisition, Logistics and Technology to enhance the readiness of all active Army, Army Reserve and National Guard units and the Army's pre-positioned afloat program within the AFSB CONUS - East area of responsibility, which includes all Army installations east of the Mississippi river.

AFSB-CE FUNCTIONS

- ❖ Integrates, coordinates, synchronizes all AMC activities (Government & Contractor) on installations and the AOR.
- ❖ LSE Commander, serves as AMC's single face to the customer on installations; is the focal point for the customer on any questions/issues concerning AMC support.
- ❖ Provide continual updates to the LSE/AMC Forward Commanders on AMC capabilities and issues.

AFSB-CE FUNCTIONS

- ❖ Maintain regular contact with the customer to inform and market AMC capabilities in support of customer requirements.
- ❖ Maintain situational awareness of, and understands, customers readiness needs and priorities.
- ❖ Communicates/coordinates with AMC activities to expand or establish capability to meet customer needs.
- ❖ Maintains awareness of AMC automated logistics systems.

AFSB-CE FUNCTIONS

- ❖ Maintains awareness of all AMC contractor activities on installation or in theater.
- ❖ Conducts regular teaming sessions with the AMC activities on installation/in theater to improve integration and coordination for benefit to the customer.
- ❖ Maintains an Internet accessible WebPages/database of all AMC capabilities on installation for use by customers and other AMC activities.
- ❖ Maintains automated reporting between AMC activities and the AFSB-E for up to date information regarding AMC capabilities.
